NEWSLETTER
September.....2021

This month's program: Sept. 30

Confederate Maj. Gen. Patrick R. Cleburne will be the subject of this month's presentation, done for us by Com-patriot Kip Wright, a native of Atlanta, Georgia and a WBTS enthusiast for more than fifty years. A veteran of the U.S. Navy, he now works for FEMA as a Senior Environmental Protection Specialist. He and his wife (an English teacher) have two teen-age sons.

Come and join us for some great food and great camaraderie as we learn about this brave general, for whom our adjacent county seat of Cleburne is named.

Just as a favor to your editor

...now in his twelfth year at the keyboard and behind the camera for the E. W. Taylor Camp. He sits here in Northwest Arkansas where nearly everyone has Yankee sympathies and ancestors. He's pretty stove up now and rarely leaves the place. He flies the 1st Natl. Confederate Flag on his house.

He wonders how many people are reading this newsletter every month. He asks a favor.

If you are reading this page, member or not, please send him an email to mike@worthingtontx.com and tell him briefly where you were and what you were doing when you heard about the 9-11 attack. Nothing long and drawn out. Here's mine for an example:

My wife and I were at my neighbor's house feeding her horse while she was back East working. Her elderly mother came out on the back porch and told us about it and said she was afraid her daughter was on one of the flights.

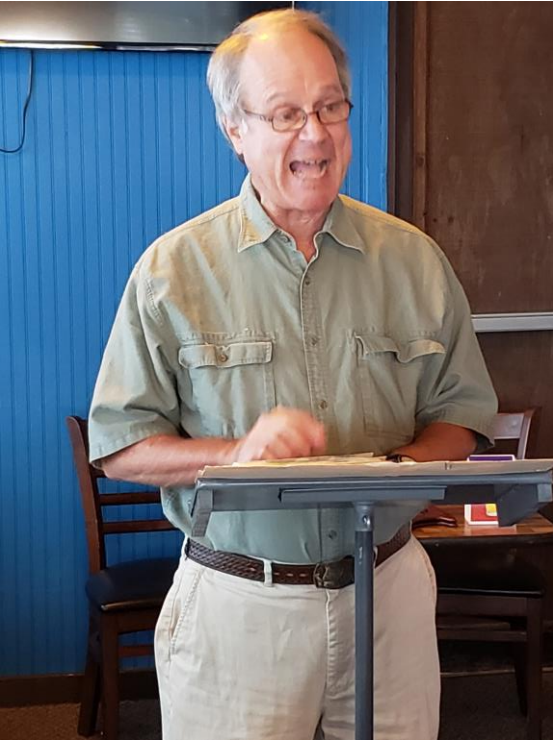

With your permission, which I'll assume I have if you respond on or before midnight on Thursday Sept. 30, I'll run them all in the October newsletter. Tell me if you'd like to be anonymous.

Thanks for your time and attention.

Thanks to our August speaker, David Hendricks

He's a member of the Belo Camp in Dallas, where he is a Past Commander. He's also an officer in the 4th Brigade. He brought us an excellent program on the paper currency of both the Republic of Texas and the Confederacy.

After the program we gave him a certificate of appreciation for his program (below). Left to right below are, 1st Lt. Commander Clay Fitzhugh, Mr. Hendricks, and Commander Rich McCook.

Definitely worth your time
